READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS FIRST

If you have been given an Answer Booklet, follow the instructions on the front cover of the Booklet.

Write your Centre number, candidate number and name on all the work you hand in.

Write in dark blue or black pen.

Do not use staples, paper clips, highlighters, glue or correction fluid.

Answer three questions.

At the end of the examination, fasten all your work securely together.

The number of marks is given in brackets [] at the end of each question or part question.

This document consists of 2 printed pages.

Answer three questions.

- 1 'There are many drawbacks to jury service. The time has long come for it to be abolished and replaced with something more efficient.'

Discuss the extent to which you agree with this statement.

[25]

- 2 Agatha Runcible has pleaded not guilty to careless driving at the Brideshead Magistrates' Court.

Consider critically the process which will now follow and the roles of those involved in her trial. [25]

- 3 Analyse critically the main ways in which delegated legislation comes into force in England and Wales.

[25]

- 4 'The courts are still widely regarded as an elite and alien world, remote from the experience and interests of the ordinary man and woman.'

Discuss critically the role of those who work in the courts, their training and the day-to-day operation of justice in England and Wales, indicating how far you would agree with the above statement. [25]

- 5 'Equitable maxims and equitable remedies have been vital tools in the development of justice.'

Identifying and illustrating both maxims and remedies, discuss how far you would agree with the above statement. Your answer should refer to decided cases.

[25]

- 6 'The problem with a system of precedent is that it makes the law stand still; it cannot move with the times.'

How far would you agree with this criticism?
