MARK SCHEMES (2010)

Foreword

Introduction

Mark Schemes are published to assist teachers and students in their preparation for examinations. Through the mark schemes teachers and students will be able to see what examiners are looking for in response to questions and exactly where the marks have been awarded. The publishing of the mark schemes may help to show that examiners are not concerned about finding out what a student does not know but rather with rewarding students for what they do know.

The Purpose of Mark Schemes

Examination papers are set and revised by teams of examiners and revisers appointed by the Council. The teams of examiners and revisers include experienced teachers who are familiar with the level and standards expected of 16- and 18-year-old students in schools and colleges. The job of the examiners is to set the questions and the mark schemes; and the job of the revisers is to review the questions and mark schemes commenting on a large range of issues about which they must be satisfied before the question papers and mark schemes are finalised.

The questions and the mark schemes are developed in association with each other so that the issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed right from the start. Mark schemes therefore are regarded as a part of an integral process which begins with the setting of questions and ends with the marking of the examination.

The main purpose of the mark scheme is to provide a uniform basis for the marking process so that all the markers are following exactly the same instructions and making the same judgements in so far as this is possible. Before marking begins a standardising meeting is held where all the markers are briefed using the mark scheme and samples of the students' work in the form of scripts. Consideration is also given at this stage to any comments on the operational papers received from teachers and their organisations. During this meeting, and up to and including the end of the marking, there is provision for amendments to be made to the mark scheme. What is published represents this final form of the mark scheme.

It is important to recognise that in some cases there may well be other correct responses which are equally acceptable to those published: the mark scheme can only cover those responses which emerged in the examination. There may also be instances where certain judgements may have to be left to the experience of the examiner, for example, where there is no absolute correct response – all teachers will be familiar with making such judgements.

The Council hopes that the mark schemes will be viewed and used in a constructive way as a further support to the teaching and learning processes.

2 Suggested Translation

- (i) Bhí suim ag daoine i gcónaí sa taistéal agus spéis acu aghaidh a thabhairt ar áiteanna úra. “Is glas iad na cnoic i bhfad uainn,” a deirtear.
- (ii) Is iomaí duine a thaistil thar lear – fiú sna seanlaethanta. Is minic a léimid sna seanleabhair faoi mhuintir na hÉireann agus a gcuid eachtraí i dtíortha i bhfad uainn.
- (iii) Deirtear go gcuidíonn an taistéal leat dearcadh níos leithne a bheith agat ar an saol agus, ar ndóigh, go gcuidíonn sé leat eolas a fháil ar chultúir eile seachas ar chultúr na hÉireann.
- (iv) Sa lá atá inniu ann, tá an taistéal ag iarraidh níos coitianta. Tá eitiltí saora ar tairiscint i ngach áit agus is beag duine nach bhfuil sé ar a c(h)umas dul thar lear ar a laghad uair amháin sa bláthain.
- (v) Is maith linn uile éalú ó chúramaí an tsaoil agus sos a ghlacadh ó am go ham. Ar a bharr sin, ciallaíonn an taistéal go dtig le muintir na hÉireann an ghrian a fheiceáil. Is annamh a tharlaíonn sé sin sa bhaile!
- (vi) Cé go mbíonn contúirtí leis an taistéal agus cé go bhfuil géarchéim airgeadais ann faoi láthair, níl an chuma ar an scéal go bhfuil daoine sásta fanacht sa bhaile i rith na bliana. Tá tarraingt ag an ghrian, ag an ghaineamh agus ag an fharraige agus beidh go deo.

Q2: Translation into Target Language

Notes to Examiners

1. This mark scheme should be read in conjunction with the Instructions to Assistant Examiners, in particular the references to annotation of candidates' work.
2. To facilitate marking, the text has been divided into 6 sections. Mark off these sections within the script before beginning to mark. The total number of marks available for the question [20] has been tripled to a working total of [60]. The translation should be positively assessed by applying the description of performance grid set out below in each of the 6 sections.
Assistant Examiners are asked to place each section in a band and to consider which mark in the range is appropriate. That mark should be recorded as a sub-total in the right-hand margin to facilitate totalling.
3. Ticks over relevant section(s) must indicate positive marks to be awarded. Errors should be underlined and infelicities indicated by a wavy line. Ticks should indicate where marks are being awarded. If alternatives are offered, only the first should be credited.
4. Credit should be given for other valid responses not set out in "Suggested Translation".
5. Marks for each subsection of the total are divided by three to give a mark out of twenty; the final mark should be transferred, ringed, to the right-hand corner of the candidate's script.

MARK SCHEME

General instructions to Assistant Examiners concerning the marking of scripts.

- 1 Appropriate word length should be understood in terms of the demands of the question. Candidates who have carefully observed the word length rubric will be rewarded for coherence and relevance, while candidates who overwrite may deny themselves access to the top bands because of irrelevance, imbalance and/or lack of focus. Overlong answers may also be at greater risk under AO3.
- 2 Each question is to be marked out of 60. You should endeavour to use the full range of marks, rewarding the intelligent and perceptive answer in full measure and using the appropriate lower mark band for inadequate performances.

3 (a) Literature

Examiners should expect the following:

- thorough familiarity with the set text;
- the cogent application of this knowledge to the particular requirements of the specific question being tackled;
- an attempt to answer all parts of the question;
- appropriate use of quotations and textual references; these need not be extensive nor included in the word-length requirement.

(b) Society

Examiners should expect the following:

- detailed knowledge of the society topic;
- satisfactory coverage of the topic in question;
- the cogent application of this knowledge to the particular requirements of the specific question being tackled;
- appropriate use of reference material.

(c) Responsive writing

Examiners should expect the following:

- detailed knowledge of the Context for Learning topic;
- the cogent application of this knowledge to the particular requirements of the question being tackled;
- satisfactory coverage of the topic in question;
- appropriate use of reference material relating to the Target Language country.

- 4 Examiners must make every effort to adhere to the norms and standards agreed at the standardising conference which is held shortly after the paper is sat. At the conference the paper will be reviewed, all questions will be considered and numerous sample answers discussed.
- 5 Insert ticks and crosses in the margin to indicate positive and negative factors, adding brief annotation where necessary to explain the mark awarded. A statement should be given at the end of the essay outlining the Examiner's opinion of it as reflected in the mark awarded. Such annotation is an essential part of the marking process.
- 6 Marks should be given at the end of the essay for each of the three assessment objectives. The total mark for the essay should be recorded and ringed in the top right-hand corner of the candidate's script.
