

PART B: SIGHT PASSAGE*7 multiple-choice questions*1 written-response question*Value: 25%*Suggested Time: 35 minutes

INSTRUCTIONS: Read both the following selections by Alfred Lord Tennyson. For questions 24 to 30, choose the best answer.

Tennyson's poem In Memoriam, which consists of a series of short numbered sections, laments the death of his friend, Arthur Henry Hallam.

from *In Memoriam54.

O, yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood;

- 5 That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroy'd,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain;
10 That not a moth with vain desire
Is shrivell'd in a fruitless fire,
Or but subserves another's gain.

- 15 Behold, we know not anything;
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last—far off—at least, to all,
And every winter change to spring.

- 20 So runs my dream: but what am I?
An infant crying in the night:
An infant crying for the light:
And with no language but a cry.

124.

That which we dare invoke to bless;
Our dearest faith; our ghastliest doubt;
He, They, One, All; within, without;
The Power in darkness whom we guess;

- 5 I found Him not in world or sun,
Or eagle's wing, or insect's eye;
Nor thro' the questions men may try,
The petty cobwebs we have spun:

- 10 If e'er when faith had fall'n asleep,
I heard a voice 'believe no more'
And heard an ever-breaking shore
That tumbled in the Godless deep;

- 15 A warmth within the breast would melt
The freezing reason's colder part,
And like a man in wrath the heart
Stood up and answer'd 'I have felt.'

- 20 No, like a child in doubt and fear:
But that blind clamour made me wise;
Then was I as a child that cries,
But, crying, knows his father near;

- And what I am beheld again
What is, and no man understands;
And out of darkness came the hands
That reach thro' nature, moulding men.

(page 8 in the Examination Booklet)

INSTRUCTIONS: With specific reference to the passage, respond to the following statement in approximately 200 words in paragraph form. Write your answer in ink in the Response Booklet.

1. Sections 54 and 124 of In Memoriam represent different stages in the speaker's coming to terms with his loss. Support this statement with reference to both sections.

Response:

Section 54

- Despite its affirmation of faith, it is filled with expressions of doubt, “pangs of nature, sins of will, / Defects of doubt, and taints of blood.”
- The speaker trusts intellectually that there is purpose in life and that God has a plan for all; however, he cannot feel this is true.
- The poem concludes with the image of the speaker as an infant crying and uncomforted.

Section 124

- By contrast, this segment is more hopeful and the speaker's faith is reaffirmed. He describes his faith as “dearest” and rejects his “ghastliest” doubt.
- He acknowledges his struggles: he has failed to find God in Nature or in reason and has “heard a voice” telling him to “believe no more.”
- But he realizes that these periods of darkness have brought him wisdom because in his helplessness he has felt the presence of God.
- Again, the image of the crying child appears, but this time the child “knows his father” is near.
- The poem concludes with the comforting hand of God, “moulding men.”

SCORING GUIDE FOR THE SIGHT PASSAGE

This is a first-draft response and should be scored as such.

6

The 6 response combines a perceptive understanding of the passage with a detailed discussion of the topic. The analysis includes pertinent references. The ideas are focused and clearly expressed. The response, however, need not be error-free.

5

The 5 response combines an accurate understanding of the passage with a detailed discussion of the topic. The analysis includes relevant references. The ideas are clearly and logically presented. The response, however, need not be error-free.

4

The 4 response contains a general understanding of the passage and a competent discussion of the topic. The references are mostly accurate, but may be limited. Ideas are presented in a straightforward manner. Errors may be present but are seldom distracting.

3

The 3 response contains a limited understanding of the passage and a barely adequate discussion of the topic. While present, references may be inappropriate or incorrect. The development of ideas is superficial or incomplete. Errors may be distracting.

2

The 2 response is inadequate. The understanding of the passage is flawed, and the discussion of the topic is inadequate or incomplete. References may be irrelevant or lacking. The response may lack organization and coherence. Errors may impede understanding.

1

The 1 response is unacceptable. It does not meet the purpose of the task or may be too brief to address the topic. References may be irrelevant, flawed, or lacking. Errors may render the paper unintelligible.

0

The zero response is a complete misunderstanding of the task, or is simply a restatement of the topic.

Any zero response must be cleared by the section leader.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.

PART C: SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA

1 written-response question*Value: 20%*Suggested Time: 25 m

INSTRUCTIONS: Choose one of the three passages on pages 14 to 17 in the Examination Booklet. With specific reference to the drama, respond to one of the following statements in at least 200 words in paragraph form. Write your answer in ink in the Response Booklet.

2. Hamlet (1600–1601)

Ophelia: O my lord, my lord, I have been so affrighted! 75

Polonius: With what, i' th' name of God?

Ophelia: My lord, as I was sewing in my closet,<sup>1</sup>
 Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced,<sup>2</sup>
 No hat upon his head, his stockings fouled,
 Ungartered, and down-gyvèd<sup>3</sup> to his ankle,
 Pale as his shirt, his knees knocking each other,
 And with a look so piteous in purport,<sup>4</sup>
 As if he had been loosèd out of hell
 To speak of horrors—he comes before me. 80

Polonius: Mad for thy love?

Ophelia: My lord, I do not know, 85
 But truly I do fear it.

Polonius: What said he?

Ophelia: He took me by the wrist and held me hard;
 Then goes he to the length of all his arm,
 And with his other hand thus o'er his brow
 He falls to such perusal of my face 90
 As 'a would draw it. Long stayed he so.
 At last, a little shaking of mine arm,
 And thrice his head thus waving up and down,
 He raised a sigh so piteous and profound
 As it did seem to shatter all his bulk 95
 And end his being. That done, he lets me go,
 And, with his head over his shoulder turned,
 He seemed to find his way without his eyes,
 For out o' doors he went without their helps,
 And to the last bended their light on me. 100

Polonius: Come, go with me. I will go seek the King.
 This is the very ecstacy<sup>5</sup> of love,
 Whose violent property fordoes<sup>6</sup> itself
 And leads the will to desperate undertakings
 As oft as any passions under heaven 105
 That does afflict our natures. I am sorry.
 What, have you given him any hard words of late?

Ophelia: No, my good lord; but as you did command,
I did repel his letters and denied
His access to me.

110

(II. i. 75–110)

<sup>1</sup> closet: private room

<sup>2</sup> doublet all unbraced: jacket entirely unlaced

<sup>3</sup> down-gyvèd: hanging down like fetters

<sup>4</sup> purport: expression

2. Ophelia has an impact on Hamlet's behaviour. Discuss this statement with reference to the passage and to the rest of the play.

Response:

- Hamlet's feelings towards Ophelia span from love to regret to anger. In this passage, he puts on his "antic disposition" but displays a look "so piteous in purport" that the reader can conclude that his love for Ophelia is strong.
- Hamlet sighs "so piteous and profound[ly]"; this illustrates the strength of his disappointment regarding Ophelia and the loss he feels.
- While much of Hamlet's behaviour in this scene is staged and exaggerated—probably for Polonius—the root of his actions relate to his love for Ophelia.
- Hamlet is angered by Ophelia when he surmises that she is lying to him when Polonius and Claudius are spying on them.
- Hamlet's anger with Ophelia—and with women in general—is shown when he makes lewd remarks to her at the play within a play.
- Hamlet is devastated by the discovery of Ophelia's death and claims that "forty thousand brothers / Could not, with all their quantity of love, / Make up my sum."

Other responses are possible.

Criteria: Content and clarity

3. The Tempest (1611)

Prospero:	Thou most lying slave, Whom stripes <sup>1</sup> may move, not kindness! I have used thee (Filth as thou art) with humane care, and lodged thee In mine own cell till thou didst seek to violate The honor of my child.	345
Caliban:	O ho, O ho! Would't had been done! Thou didst prevent me; I had peopled else This isle with Calibans.	350

(I. ii. 344–351)

<sup>1</sup> stripes: lashes

AND

Ferdinand:	As I hope For quiet days, fair issue, and long life, With such love as 'tis now, the murkiest den, The most opportune <sup>1</sup> place, the strong'st suggestion Our worser genius can, <sup>2</sup> shall never melt Mine honor into lust, to take away The edge <sup>3</sup> of that day's celebration When I shall think or Phoebus' steeds are founded <sup>4</sup> Or Night kept chained below. <sup>5</sup>	25 30
------------	---	----------

(IV. i. 23–31)

3. Ferdinand and Caliban may be considered character foils. Discuss this statement with reference to the attitudes exhibited in the two excerpts given and elsewhere in the play.

Response:

- Caliban, because of his bestial nature, sees Miranda as an object whom he will use to people “[T]his isle with Calibans.”
- In contrast, Ferdinand recognizes the difference between love and lust and promises to honour Miranda with “fair issue and long life.”
- When carrying logs for Prospero’s fire, Caliban curses and is resentful of his burden whereas Ferdinand realizes that there is value in work and discipline.
- Caliban plots to murder Prospero and relishes violence as he graphically describes how murder might best be achieved: “Batter his skull or paunch him with a stake.”
- Though Ferdinand has cause for anger at the man who has enslaved him, he reacts with self-control and a willingness to prove himself: his “mean task” could be construed as “odious” but he understands that Prospero is testing him and it “makes [his] labours pleasures.”

Other responses are possible.

4. King Lear (1603)

Kent: Royal Lear,
Whom I have ever honored as my king,
Loved as my father, as my master followed,
As my great patron thought on in my prayers—

Lear: The bow is bent and drawn; make from the shaft.<sup>1</sup>

Kent: Let it fall<sup>2</sup> rather, though the fork<sup>3</sup> invade
The region of my heart. Be Kent unmannerly
When Lear is mad. What wouldest thou do, old man?
Think'st thou that duty shall have dread to speak
When power to flattery bows? To plainness honor's bound 150
When majesty falls to folly. Reserve thy state,<sup>4</sup>
And in thy best consideration<sup>5</sup> check
This hideous rashness. Answer my life my judgment,<sup>6</sup>
Thy youngest daughter does not love thee least,
Nor are those empty-hearted whose low sounds 155
Reverb<sup>7</sup> no hollowness.<sup>8</sup>

Lear: Kent, on thy life, no more!

Kent: My life I never held but as a pawn<sup>9</sup>
To wage<sup>10</sup> against thine enemies; nor fear to lose it,
Thy safety being motive.<sup>11</sup>

Lear: Out of my sight!

Kent: See better, Lear, and let me still<sup>12</sup> remain
The true blank<sup>13</sup> of thine eye.

(I. i. 141–161)

---

<sup>1</sup> make from the shaft: avoid the arrow

<sup>2</sup> fall: strike

<sup>3</sup> fork: forked head of the arrow

<sup>4</sup> Reserve thy state: retain your kingly authority

5 best consideration: most careful reflection

<sup>6</sup> Answer...judgment: I will stake my life on

<sup>8</sup> hollowness: (1) em

<sup>9</sup> pawn: stake in a wager

$^{10}$  wage: (1) wager (2) car

11 motive: moving cause

still· always

still away

blank: the white spot in the centre of the target (at which Lear should aim)

4. In this passage, Kent's loyalty is revealed. Show how this quality is revealed both here and elsewhere in the play.

Response:

- Kent sees Lear's rash behaviour clearly and seeks to advise him rather than condemn him.
- Kent stands up to Lear and attempts to show him the truth of the situation.
- Kent risks his own political future and life for Lear.
- Kent stands beside Lear (in disguise) throughout the play not revealing himself until the final scene.
- Kent defends Lear against Oswald, Goneril's servant.
