PART I

What are the minimum necessary steps for you to take to comply with your client's requirement:

Question 1

- International application was correctly filed on September 1991 designating, inter alia, EP (European Patent) and Monaco. Is it possible to get a European patent for Monaco when entering the national phase?
- Five reasons for your answer.

Question 2

- Italian applicant wishes to file an EP application claiming priority of an Italian application filed by him on 4 May 1992. Besides a certified copy of the Italian application, he sends you English language translation of the Italian application for filing. He also asks you to save costs.

Will you reduce the amount of fees payable? If so, how? What time limits apply?

Question 3

- You are on the list of professional representatives before the EPO and are the German representative in Munich for a Greek applicant for a European patent. On the very last day of the period for reply, a communication pursuant to Art 96(2) and Rule 51(2) you receive instructions for filing a reply. The instructions are in the Greek language, of which you have a good command, and are rather lengthy, in the form of a draft response, but are apparently proper and deal with all objections raised in the communication. The applicant expressly tells you that you must file the reply by the end of the period.

a) if the instructions only include arguments?

- b) if the instructions also include amended claims and/or amended description pages (in Greek)?

Question 4

The applicant has filed in September 1992 a European patent application for a pharmaceutical product and its method of manufacture. At filing, the application includes two sets of claims; a first set for all EPC Contracting States except Greece, Portugal and Spain includes 12 claims and a second set for Greece, Portugal and Spain includes 13 claims.

a) How many claims fees were payable? By what deadline?

The applicant during prosecution of the application adds a further eight claims to the first set of claims and subsequently receives notification that the EPO intends to grant a patent including these further claims.

b) How many claims fees are payable? By what deadline?

c) What are the consequences of missing the deadlines in a) and b)?

Question 5

In a PCT application the claims relate to a method for smoothing the human skin by applying a certain substance, known per se. The International Searching Authority (ISA) refuses to search the claims, considering them as relating to a method of treatment of the human body by therapy. The applicant, however, is convinced that this invention falls in the cosmetic field rather than in the therapeutic field.

-) What is the legal basis in the PCT for this refusal by the ISA?
Can this refusal be appealed under the provisions of PCT?

-) Can the application enter the national phase with non-searched claims? Give reasons for your answer.

Question 6

US applicant has filed a European Patent application on 2 September 1992 appointing, in the request which he signed himself, a single representative on the list of professional representatives before the EPO. Later, the applicant decides to appoint another representative, also on the said list but of a different firm.

-) What steps should be taken to substitute the other representative for the first mentioned representative?

-) Can the other representative be made an additional representative and be sure to receive copies of all communications from the EPO?

Question 7

Last year, on the morning of 4 May 1992, a European patent attorney received a letter from his US-client. It contained the application text for a European patent application and also the other necessary papers ready for filing. The priorities of a US application of 30 April 1991 and a further one of 5 May 1991 were to be claimed. It was mentioned in the letter that a scientific article disclosing the invention had been published some days earlier than 4 May 1992.

-) How would you have handled the situation?

Question 8

A PCT application has been properly filed at the European Patent Office by a British company, requesting inter alia a European patent. The applicant now intends to submit a demand for International Preliminary Examination to extend the international phase.

- a) What is the deadline for requesting this International Preliminary Examination? Where does it have to be submitted?
b) Under what circumstances is it possible to elect one or more further countries not mentioned in the original demand for International Preliminary Examination?
c) Where, if at all possible, can this later election be submitted?

Question 2

- An Examining Division intends to grant a European patent and therefore despatches on 10 April 1992 the Communication under Rule 51(4). On 8 May 1992, i.e. within the specified period, the applicant states his approval of the text. On 10 July 1992 the Examining Division despatches the Communication under Rule 51(6).

On 4 September 1992, i.e. in the given term, the applicant pays the fees for grant and printing and files the translation of the claims in the two official languages other than the language of the proceedings. The EPO has not yet despatched the decision to grant the patent pursuant to Article 97(2).

A third party presents observations under Article 115(1) EPC at this stage.

Upon what basis will these observations be considered?

- Following these observations, the substantive examination is resumed. An interview between the examiner and the applicant takes place on 28 January 1993 and oral proceedings before the Examining Division take place on 1 April 1993.

Could this third party be present

- (i) at the interview?
- (ii) at the oral proceedings?

- These oral proceedings are closed by the Examining Division informing the applicant that it intends to grant a European Patent on the basis of the amended claims filed for the oral proceedings.

Will further new observations according to Article 115(1) EPC by the same third party be considered? If so, by what date should they be filed in order to be taken into account?
