Mark Scheme for November 2013

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

Examiners should use annotation to show clearly where a mark is earned or why it has not been awarded. This will help examiners, checkers and those who review the marking of scripts.

Annotation consists of:

- ticks to show where marks have been earned
- specific words or phrases as agreed at Standardisation and as contained and included in the final mark scheme to show why a mark has been earned or indicate why a mark has not been earned (eg to show there is an omission)
- standard abbreviations, eg for use of reference, misunderstanding of question, etc.

As scripts may be returned to centres, you should use the minimum of comments and make sure that these are related to the award of a mark or marks and are matched to statements in the mark scheme.

Do not include general comments on a candidate's work.

Record any annotation in the body of the answer, or in the margin next to the point where the decision is made to award, or not award, the mark.

Subject-specific Marking Instructions

Marking and Annotation of Scripts After the Standardisation Meeting

Scripts must be marked in red, including those initially marked in pencil for the Standardisation meeting.

All scripts must be marked in accordance with the version of the mark scheme agreed at the Standardisation meeting.

Recording of marks

- Show evidence that you have seen the work on every page of a script on which the candidate has made a response
- Cross through every blank page to show that you have seen it.
- Follow the current guidance on crossed-out work.

Handling of unexpected answers

The Standardisation meeting will include discussion of marking issues, including:

- consideration of the mark scheme to reach a decision about the range of acceptable responses and the marks appropriate to them
- comparable marking standards for optional questions
- the handling of unexpected, yet acceptable, answers.

If you are not sure how to apply the mark scheme to an answer, you should telephone your Team Leader.

MARK SCHEME: Please note that the GCSE English AOs are highlighted in this document. The equivalent AOs for GCSE English Language are: AO2 = AO3, AO3 = AO4.

SECTION A READING

Question 1 Malaria: the net gains of keeping mosquitoes at bay

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

• Read and understand texts, selecting material appropriate to purpose, collating from different sources (AO2 i).

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
Question 1	<ol> <li>Candidates may refer to some of the following points:</li> <li>Malaria is caused by a parasite carried in a mosquito bite</li> <li>Malaria carrying mosquitoes feed at night</li> <li>Young children are most vulnerable/lack immunity</li> <li>Malaria progresses rapidly/causing organ damage, coma and death</li> </ol>	12	<ul> <li>We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication.</li> <li>2 Intify each point made clearly.</li> <li>Use over the word or phrase that specifically relates to one of the given points.</li> </ul>
	<ol> <li>Parasite has resistance to drugs</li> <li>Effective treatment is expensive &amp; scarce</li> <li>Need is greater than supply</li> <li>Regions that need nets are often inaccessible</li> <li>Nets are not always used/discomfort, feeling of suffocation</li> <li>Nets are used for other purposes/bridal veils</li> </ol>		Use if the same point is made twice.  Use if the point is blurred/not fully expressed.  NAQ  Use for loss of focus on the task.
	<ul> <li>11. Need for food means nets used for fishing</li> <li>12. Net use requires behaviour changes/carrying nets</li> <li>13. Superstition can prevent use of nets</li> </ul>		Use the Band Description in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
	<ul><li>14. Nets not used consistently/seasonal variations</li><li>15. Nets used incorrectly/more education needed.</li></ul>		5. You should write a brief summative comment drawn from the wording of the descriptors to show how you have arrived at your final mark.

Question	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
Question 1	Rotes on the Task  General – Be prepared to acknowledge and reward well responses which, although comparatively deficient in the number of points, nevertheless show clear understanding of the passage through a high order of skill in synthesis and structuring.  Higher Band (1+2) responses are likely to identify a range of key points and convey them concisely, using the candidate's own words as far as possible in order to convey a clear overview of the material. Responses will be consistently focused on the task and well organised with little or no excess material. There may be occasional blurring of points, particularly at the lower end of the range.  Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to include a range of relevant points, most of which will be clearly identified. Focus on the task is clear but there may not be an attempt at concision, or there may be over-condensation leading to some blurring of points. There will be an attempt to organise although at the lower end of the range answers may include unnecessary detail and be over-reliant on the sequence of the original passage. There will be evidence that the passage and task have been understood, possibly by selective lifting.  Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to identify clearly only a limited number of relevant points: understanding of the passage may not be secure although at the higher end of the range, there is	Marks 12	Guidance understanding of the passage may not be secure although at the higher end of the range, there is likely to be evidence of a general understanding of the material. Responses may lack focus and organisation and are likely to be very short or of excessive length as a result of including unnecessary or irrelevant material and/or excessive lifting from the original passage.

BAND	MARKS	DESCRIPTOR
1	12	Complete understanding of text and task
	11	Complete overview
		Very clear focus, tightly organised and synthesised
		Almost entirely in own words
		Comprehensive range of points clearly identified
2	10	Very secure understanding of text and task
	9	Clear overview
		Clear focus; very little excess material; effective organisation
		Mostly in own words
		Very good range of points clearly identified
3	8	Secure understanding of text and task
	7	Overview of material
		Mostly clear focus; good organisation; perhaps not always concise
		Consistent attempt to use own words/some selective lifting
		Good range of points clearly identified
4	6	Text and task have been understood
	5	Partial overview
		Generally clear focus/perhaps some blurring
		Evidence of ability to express in own words but likely to be close to original wording/selective lifting
		A range of points clearly identified
5	4	Partial understanding of text and task
	3	May lack focus/organisation
		Own words are used, but areas of lifting
		General understanding of a limited range of points
Below 5	2	Some misunderstanding of text and task
	1	Lacks clear focus
	0	Points listed mechanically, with significant lifting
		Straightforward understanding of some of the simpler points

Question 2 Malaria: the net gains of keeping mosquitoes at bay

CRITERIA Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

• Explain and evaluate how writers use presentational features to achieve effects and engage and influence the reader (AO2 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS - 2

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

Question	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
2	General Candidates may comment on the ways in which the article both delivers factual information and seeks to convey approval of the distribution of mosquito nets.	14
	They may offer comment on the images – a tiny insect that carries a great threat, for example, or comment on how the close up of 'feeding on blood' makes them feel. The closing image of maternal care under the shared protection of the net may be readily linked to ideas in the text (vulnerability of children, poverty of surroundings).
	Candidates may explore the effect of the question and answer format and possibly consider the technique of close focus on a named individual on the day she collects her nets, which opens and closes the article.
	Candidates may consider how the selection of facts and statistics demonstrate both the scale of the problem of malaria and the effectiveness of the mosquito net. Information about child mortality rates may be seen as emotive.
	Candidates may explore the effects of direct quotation and the contrast between the two women, Atong who understands the importance of the net and Amir who is waiting for more mosquitos. The sense of frustration this causes, coupled with examples of how nets are misused may be considered.
	Some more detailed comment on specific language devices may be offered, the phrase 'magic bullets' for example, or the irony around white being seen as the colour of death.

Question	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
	Higher Band (1+2) Responses may offer insightful comment on the manipulation of the reader's perceptions. They will make consistently analytical and more developed comments on the language used, supported by fully appropriate references. Comments about presentation will show good overview and understanding of the way the article is structured and how the images reinforce the text. Candidates may also refer to the way the writer's opinion is implied through the use of direct quotations.
	Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show some appreciation of the ways in which the passage informs and persuades. There may be some consideration of how the article seeks to engage the reader's emotions. There is likely to be some comment on how the information is given, such as the use of a question and answer format and some comment on how the visual images contribute to this. There may be some attempt to explain language effects, but it is unlikely to be sustained, and not always firmly linked to the writer's purpose.
	Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task and will make general, mainly unsupported comments about the writer's use of language, possibly achieving little more than the naming of a device. There may be some misunderstanding of the text and responses at this level will probably consist mainly of paraphrase/summary of the content and description of the images.

Question 3 Charity Fundraising: boring and embarrassing – unless you join in says comic Robert Webb

CRITERIA: Candidates should show that they can

• Develop and sustain interpretations of writer's ideas and perspectives (AO2ii)

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 3

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

Question	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
Question 3	Rotes on the Task  General – Candidates are expected to show understanding of the writer's views about charity fundraising and how this is conveyed through the language used both explicitly and implicitly. Examiners should be prepared to credit different approaches by the candidates in responding to this task.  Candidates should show some understanding of the writer's mixed feelings and identify some of his objections to TV fundraisers (interrupted TV viewing, scolding approach). Candidates may comment on the comparison to election coverage and the idea that people do 'moan' about 'Good Things' and may consider the structure of the article as he 'takes a look at' his own feelings and other more general objections in a question and answer format, leading to the concluding resolution that the potential for good outweighs objections.  Candidates may explore the exaggerated descriptions (student fundraising, his family 'clutching the furniture', the 'sincere' presenter's pleas). The informal conversational tone – 'Good luck to you', and the use of short sentences for effect – 'And the suffering is real', might be considered. The emotive appeal in the closing section – that people are not merely surviving but are 'reading, writing, working, falling in love and having families' might be	Marks 14	Guidance  Use in the body of the answer to reward clear relevant points.  use for points not fully expressed.*  may be used to indicate more thoughtful comment or well developed comment (Band 2/1)  Other icons may be used as appropriate.
	considered, perhaps alongside the emphatic, 'I believe' that opens the final sentence. Higher Band (1+2) responses should show some clarity in identifying both the objections Webb sets out and his concluding support for these events with some sense of how his argument is advanced. Responses at this level should show good appreciation of the tone of the article and offer some quite detailed analysis of language use. There should be firm connection between the examples of humorous use of language and the writer's overall purpose.		NE may be used to indicate quality of supporting reference.

Question	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
	Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show generally secure understanding of the writer's thoughts although there may be some lack of clarity around the apparently contradictory stance adopted, whereby Webb appears as both a 'moaner' and a 'supporter'. Candidates at this level may identify some entertaining use of language but be less confident in explaining how effects are conveyed to the reader. There may be some attempt to comment on the purpose of the article.		may be used to indicate misunderstanding.  NAQ may be used for irrelevant comment.
	Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task with largely unsupported comment. There is likely to be some misunderstanding of the writer's point of view. Responses at this level will consist almost entirely of an attempted summary of the content of the article with some attempt to spot literary devices.

SECTION B: WRITING (Candidates answer EITHER 4 OR 5)

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Write to communicate clearly, effectively and imaginatively, using and adapting forms and selecting vocabulary appropriate to task and purpose in ways that engage the reader (AO3 i)
- Organise information and ideas into structured and sequenced sentences, paragraphs and whole texts, using a variety of linguistic and structural features to support cohesion and overall coherence (AO3 ii)
- Use a range of sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate punctuation and spelling (AO3 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 4 or 5

- or good ideas and for merits of expression to show how you have formed your judgement. Use a wavy line underneath the candidate's writing, or to show omission.
- 2 You should write a brief summative comment drawn from the wording of the descriptors to show how you have arrived at your final marks.
- 3 For writing tasks, LENGTH is not in itself a criterion.
  - Short answers (50-100 words) may well be self-penalising in terms of the marking criteria (eg control and development of ideas; structure; maintaining the reader's interest), but may still demonstrate significant qualities. Very short answers (fewer than 50 words) should not normally be marked higher than Band 7.
- 4 Award TWO separate marks, one for AOs 3(i) + (ii), one for AO3 (iii), using the appropriate instructions and Band Descriptors. Be prepared to use the full range of marks in each sub-set.
- 5 Use the standardisation scripts as guides to your assessment.
- 6 The generic marking criteria for Writing appear after the Notes on the Task.

Q	uestion	Notes on the Task		Guidance
4		Expect a wide range of responses. Be prepared to reward those which show a clear awareness of the purpose of the question. There should be evidence of an attempt to use language to generate support from the intended audience.  Look for a well-structured and coherent response that adopts an appropriate tone.	40
5		Candidates have been asked to produce a piece of personal writing. Expect a wide range of responses, and note that there is free choice of topic. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts.  Look to reward those responses that are well crafted and clearly focused on the task. There should be some intention to use language to create effects.	40
