SECTION A: UNPREPARED NON-FICTION

You must answer the question in this section. You should spend about 40 minutes on this question.

1. Read the extract from George Alagiah's book: A Passage to Africa.

How does this passage bring out the challenges faced by the writer as a television journalist reporting scenes of suffering?

You should write about:

- the kinds of stories and pictures needed for television
- the physical and emotional demands of his work
- the thoughts and feelings caused by the man's smile
- the use of language.

Support your answer with examples from the text.

(Total for Section A: 25 marks for Reading)

There are two questions in this section. You should answer ONE of them.

Do not use pencil. Use blue or black ink.

Put a cross in the box indicating the question you have chosen (⋈).

If you change your mind, put a line through the box (\boxtimes) and then put a cross in the other box (\boxtimes) .

You should spend about 40 minutes on this question.

4. In his book, George Alagiah writes, "In global terms, if you have a roof over your head, food on the table, a doctor who will not charge you when you are ill and a school place that does not depend on your ability to pay, then, my friend, you are rich."

Comment on this, giving your ideas on what makes you rich.

OR

5. Some people say that television programmes nowadays are too trivial and sensationalised.

Write two separate reviews, one of a television programme that you think proves this point and one of a programme that disproves it.
