1. Answer Section A or Section B in this question:-

[75]

A. Translate into Latin:-

At dawn the Roman general sailed with sixty ships from Brundisium. A great storm rose so suddenly that the infantry were terrified. The sailors laughed. "Surely the general knows that these soldiers are cowards? If they fight, they will be defeated."

When they reached Greece, scouts showed where the enemy had pitched camp. The general encouraged his men to fight bravely. "The enemy's city must be destroyed."

When the victorious soldiers returned to port after a fierce battle, the sailors greeted them with a great shout. They said that they were brave at sea, but the soldiers were brave in battle.

coward: ignavus. Greece: Graecia. I greet: saluto.

B. Read the following passage and answer, in English, all the questions which follow:-

(Seneca tells how the calm at sea does not last)

Ego, Seneca, solvi mari languido. Erat sine dubio caelum grave sordidis nubibus, sed putavi tam pauca milia a Parthenope usque Puteolos surripi posse. Itaque ut celerius evaderem, protinus per altum mare ad Nesida direxi praecisurus omnes sinus. Cum iam eo processissem ut mea nihil interesseret utrum irem an redirem, primum tranquillitas illa, quae me deceperat, periit. Nondum erat tempestas, sed iam erat inclinatio maris ac inde crebrior fluctus. Coepi gubernatorem rogare ut me in aliquo litore exponeret. Dicebat ille litora aspera esse et importuosa nec quidquam se magis in tempestate timere quam terram. Nausea enim segnis haec et sine exitu me torquebat. Institi itaque governatori et illum, vellet nollet, coegi petere litus.

solvo: I set sail. surripi: I snatch, steal. protinus: straight. praecisurus: intending to cut off. sinus: bay. mea nihil interest: it does not matter to me. inclinatio: a swell. creber: frequent. gubernator: helmsman. importuosus: harbourless. segnis: slow. insto: I press.

| (i)    | Describe what the weather was like when Seneca set sail.  | (8) |
| (ii)   | What did he think of the journey which lay before him?  | (6) |
| (iii)  | Why did Seneca sail protinus per altum ? What else might he have done?   | (8) |
| (iv)   | At what stage of the journey did the calm cease?  | (8) |
| (v)    | How did the sea then behave?  | (8) |
| (vi)   | What did Seneca then ask the helmsman to do?  | (6) |
| (vii)  | What was the helmsman's reply?  | (9) |
| (viii) | Describe Seneca's condition at this point.  | (6) |
| (ix)   | What did Seneca finally do?   | (8) |
| (x)    | Seneca always professed to be a Stoic. In your opinion, did he behave like a Stoic in this passage? Give reasons for your answer. | (8) |

(Cicero, governor of Cilicia, fears war with the Parthians; he informs the Senate of the precautions he has taken)

Cum ego propter itinerum et navigationum difficultatem serius in meam provinciam venissem, maxime convenire officio meo putavi, parare ea quae ad exercitum et ad rem militarem pertinenter. Quae cum ego cura et diligentia fecisset, et litterae mihi cotidie afferrentur de bello quod a Parthis in provincia Syria gereretur, iter mihi faciendum esse per Cappadociam putavi; erat enim magna suspicio, Parthos, si ex Syria egredi atque irrumpere in meam provinciam conarentur, iter per Cappadociam facturos esse. Itaque cum exercitu per Cappadociam iter feci et castra ad Cybistra locavi, ut rex Parthorum sciret non procul a suis finibus exercitum populi Romani esse.

Cicero

serius: rather late. convenire: to befit. pertinere: to pertain to, to concern.

(A strange happening wins the favour of the king and queen for Servius Tullius)

In regia prodigium visu mirabile fuit. Puer dormienti, cui Servio Tullio fuit nomen, caput arsisse in conspectu multorum ferunt. Plurimo igitur clamore inde ad tantae rei miraculum orto, exciti sunt rex et regina. Cum quidam aquam ad restinguendum ferret, ab regina retentus est; puerum moveri regina vetuit donec sua sponte experrectus esset. Mox somnus et flamma abierunt.

Tum regi regina inquit, "Videsne hunc puerum quem tam humili cultu educamus ? Scire licet hunc puerum regiae afflictæ praesidium futurum esse. Proinde omni indulgentia nostra nutriamus."

Inde puer in tanto honore fuit non modo apud regem sed apud patres plebemque ut rege tandem mortuo ipse regnum occupaverit.

Livy

regia: palace. ardeo: I go on fire. ferunt: people say, it is said. restinguo: I extinguish. expergiscor: I awaken. cultus: style. scire licet: anyone can see. nutrio: I rear, support.
