General Observations

Along with a capacity to understand more complex questions, candidates at General level should also be able to demonstrate a higher level of written expression and precision in their answers. Answers in the form of clear sentences formulated in the candidates' own words would normally be expected. Even here, however, the Marker must be careful that such expectations do not become dogmas that deny candidates legitimate marks.

There are frequent occasions where it is difficult for all but the most literate of candidates to reformulate an answer from a source which was designed to be as clear and concise as the question setters could make it. Direct lifts should therefore not necessarily be penalised where they read appropriate to the question. Markers should distinguish this from answers in direct lift form which may contain the answer, but are surrounded by other irrelevant detail. Partial credit may be appropriate in this circumstance, but it may also be that the Marker judges the answer to be too vague to gain any marks. Likewise, a one word answer may suffice in some cases. Where a more complex explanation is called for, the candidate who fails to use a proper sentence is unlikely to have developed the answer adequately for full credit.

The same marking convention applies at General level as at Foundation, in the case of 'three points for four marks' evaluating questions, viz. 1 point, 1 mark; 2 points, 2 marks; 3 points, 4 marks. Again a mark allocation of 3 is possible if only partial credit is given for one of the points. The Marker is allowed the discretion to award 2 marks for a particularly well-explained point.

In questions where the candidate is asked to summarise or describe from a graph, a maximum of 1 mark would be accorded to a candidate who simply transcribed from the graph into words without any attempt to process or synthesise the information.
