Information Systems Project

Friday, 2 June 2006 : 10.00am to 1.00pm

Candidates should answer all FIVE of the following questions.

The examiners will evaluate answers to all five questions alongside the submitted project report.

PLEASE TURN OVER

1. What advice would you give to future students who are at the stage of selecting their topic area for the project? Justify your answer by reflecting on the process you used for selecting your topic area.
2. Describe how you planned the project. Was your plan as helpful as you expected?
3. What was the most difficult conceptual or theoretical problem you faced in carrying out the project? How did you overcome it?
4. In data collection you need to ask respondents certain questions, normally through interviews or questionnaires. How did you decide which questions to ask and how to phrase them?
5. Discuss how you presented your findings in the project report. How did you decide what to include, or exclude? How did you decide what were the most important findings that deserved to be highlighted?
